ABOUT THE PROJECT

By taking part in this project, you'll have the chance to learn from various perspectives and approaches while helping to shape different future scenarios for a more inclusive and supportive Europe.

Systems thinking is an approach that helps you understand how different parts of a system are connected and how they interact to create specific outcomes. Meanwhile, foresight is a method used to predict and plan for the future. It focuses on identifying emerging trends and possible future scenarios, enabling informed decision-making and preparation for changes that might lie ahead.

By learning the basics of these tools, you'll embark on a journey of reflection, gaining a deeper understanding of the systems you live in within the EU, and exploring the scenarios you'd like to see unfold in the future.
